FRENCH WIN A DECIDED ADVANTAGE

GENERAL NIVELLE RALLIES HIS FORCES FOR SECOND PHASE OF DRIVE ON HINDENBURG LINE.

PUSH BACK RESERVES

Twelve Divisions Thrown Against French Attack at Auberville Are Completely Checked.

Paris, April 19.—That section of the Hindenburg line which was checked to its foundation by the blows of General Nivelle, the French have the whip hand now, and the Germans are still staggering from the great rebuff dealt to them on the first line, have been relieved of their formations, and the second phase of the battle has begun with renewed vigor.

Defeated by counter attacks in some places and the steady resistance offered everywhere, the French have gained substantial advantages. They have driven forward with such speed that the Germans have been obliged to abandon many guns.

Twelve New German Divisions. The Germans threw twelve new divisions against the French between Soissons and Auberville last night. The war office announces they were unable to check the offensive of the French.

The French continued to make progress north of Vailly and Ostel, notwithstanding violent German attacks. The successes of the French in the Champagne region of Moronville. Several important heights and strong positions were taken.

Two more batteries of German artillery were captured on the front between Soissons and Auberville. Twelve German divisions at war strength constitute a force of about 225,000 men.

French Outclass Germans. Further details of yesterday's battle in the Soissons region show that the French infantry tactically outclass the Germans. The first arm operating from Soissons on Monday night had pushed itself on Monday night to the front running from northeast of Marzelle and Vauxillout to the south of Craonne, by Vregny, North of Champagne Chivy and the enemy retained all the heights and a footing had to be won there before the operation so auspiciously begun could be properly consummated.

Substantial progress also was made east of Nanteuil, and by the information only one narrow gap was left through which the German forces withdrew from the region of Conde, Celles and Sancy. These detachments are in serious danger of capture.

The violence of the attack showed the enemy late such disorder that he was unable to bring up reserves quickly enough, and consequently lost several guns. The French made further progress between the plateaus of Vailly and the plateau of Craonne, and the advance toward the front during the last three days has been even greater, and amounts to more than three miles in depth. In the center the battle raged most furiously. The wood of La Fosse, 2,000 yards long by 500 in depth, was very strongly held by the enemy, not less than 150 men were captured together with several machine guns, by a clever maneuver which cut off the wood from the rest of the line.

The army on the right, from Prunay to Auberville, by skilful maneuvering, cleaned the Germans out of most of the heights in front of the plateaus of Craonne and Vailly. Several German machine guns were captured.

On the whole, when the weather and difficulties of the terrain are considered, the day's work is considered most satisfactory and it is believed that it paves the way for far more rapid progress in the near future. The enemy made a desperate effort to stem the tide between Juvin-court and Berry-au-Bac. This is the weakest point of his line, being devoid of natural defenses. Thirty thousand of the best German troops were hurled forward but the move had been foreseen and the French were ready.

S. M. SMITH ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF NEW SCHOOL BOARD

No Standing Committees Appointed Pending Recommendations of School Survey.

S. M. Smith was unanimously elected president of the board of education for the coming year at the first meeting of the new board last evening. The high school, and the board were placed in his hands with power to appoint such temporary committees as might become necessary.

The naming of the standing committee for the year was deferred until after the next meeting of the board, in order that advantage might be taken of the recommendations of the survey. The survey, which was made by the acting director of the survey, discussed the possibility of certain changes which might be advocated after the survey had been completed.

The matter of a junior high school with particular reference to a technical education was discussed at some length, and the bad effects of a complete divorce of the technical from the academic education were pointed out to the board members. Results of the survey showed that there was no great need for a technical education, but that the demand was for men and women of the survey who could apply their intelligence to whatever technical problems were before them.

"We do not need," said H. H. Thelens, superintendent of schools, "where the differentiation between hand education and head education comes, but believe that the two are so intertwined, that they must come together. The technical education which we are able to give with our present equipment and school system, while of undoubted value, probably is of much greater service if remodeled around the plan of a junior and senior high school."

This, Dr. Thelens explained, would combine the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the school, and would rearrange the work of the last three high school years. A boy could try his hand at several different trades in the Junior high school, and then he in a position to follow the work which he preferred in a more intensive way in the Senior high school.

With reference to the actual reorganization of the school board, Dr. Thelens explained various changes in the present organization which might be advised later on. Involving the abolition of some committees, the combining of others, and the taking over of much of the detail work by the superintendent. Pending these recommendations, the appointment of standing committees was again elected as clerk of the board and as trustee officer.

MILWAUKEE LAWYER WAS KILLED IN FALL AT MADISON HOTEL

Madison, April 19.—Fred C. Ellis, prominent lawyer of Milwaukee, fell to his death from the second floor of the Park Hotel annex early this morning, striking squarely on his head on the cement walk on West Main street. The body, still warm, clad in pajamas, was found at three o'clock this morning by a patrolman. Every source of information connected with Mr. Ellis' movements early in the evening, together with conditions in his room, indicate death was purely accidental.

Mr. Ellis was legislative counsel for the Wisconsin telephone company, and a member of the law firm of Lyons, Spooner, Ellis and Quarles. He arrived in this city yesterday morning on a business trip. He was walking with Mr. Ellis shortly before he retired at eleven last night. Assemblyman Donnelly also was with Ellis up to about that time.

The theory held by hotel managers, authorities and intimate friends, is that Mr. Ellis arose from his sleep, while not fully awake, and stumbled to and out of the window, in the belief he was going toward the door. His bed had been slept in and his clothes carefully laid in his room, and he was not disturbed. He would not have shown. The body was identified by V. A. Jackson, Milwaukee. Mr. Ellis was forty years old. His wife and three children survive. He is a graduate of the university law school and a member of the Chi Psi fraternity. His father-in-law, John Helmholtz, arrived in the city at ten this morning to take charge of the remains.

ENGLISH PUBLIC HOUSES ARE HARD HIT BY WAR

London, April 19.—Government restrictions on the liquor trade are likely to result in the disappearance of hundreds of village inns and wayside public houses this summer. These houses have always relied mainly for support on the casual passerby, especially agricultural workers who used to pull up their teams, water their horses, and give themselves a rest and a drink at the comfortable bar of the roadside inn.

But nowadays the restriction of hours of sale has made it impossible for the passerby to obtain anything stronger than ginger ale except at lunch-time and the agricultural laborers are learning to pass the inn as houses of call.

Some of the most picturesque wayside inns in England now take in only a few shillings weekly, and very few of them make enough to afford a living to the landlords, who have largely been forced to become farmers or to retire on their savings.

PEACE TALK FOR RUSSIA UNFOUNDED

DEMOCRATIZATION OF RUSSIA HAS MADE COUNTRY DOUBLY STRONG, SAYS FOREIGN MINISTER.

Brand Semi-Official Peace Notes of Germany and Austria as "Base, Treacherous and Hypocritical Maneuver."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Petrograd, April 19.—Russia's allies need have no fear of her position, the foreign minister said today in an address to British and French workingmen now in Petrograd.

"We understand that at the moment of the revolution you might be afraid we might lose our strength for resistance," he began to announce to your countrymen that Russia has become doubly strong through democratization," he said.

Peace Move Treacherous. The Russian press considers the semi-official German and Austro-Hungarian notes concerning the possibility of conciliating the war aims of the central powers with those of Russia as a "base, treacherous and hypocritical maneuver."

IRISH HOME RULE VICTORY IN SIGHT

London, April 19.—The Manchester Guardian says it is virtually certain that Premier Lloyd George will announce the government's proposal for solution of the Irish question on Thursday. The scheme will be based on county option. The government is determined for keeping the counties that are against home rule in orderly relation to the legislation of the Dublin parliament.

Proposals will put the home rule act into force at once, and while it is expected that both Irish parties will oppose the scheme, it is believed neither will persist in active resistance. The Guardian says it seems probable that Sir Edward Carson has yielded to the premier's solution.

DEMAND ON FARMER DOUBLY DIFFICULT

Farmers—upon whom falls the lot of producing greater crops this year than ever before—are faced with problems which will make realization of the demand doubly difficult.

Asked by the government to produce the greater crops for the nation this year, farmers are aware that the causes which prompt the demand are responsible for: extreme labor shortage because of military increased prices on all farm machinery, shortage of motive power, shortage of horses, shortage of breeding stock, shortage of grains, not only for feeding purposes, but also for planting, increased taxes and rental.

Facing this situation, farmers are determined to meet it with redoubled effort, agricultural leaders say.

They have the co-operation of every branch of the department of agriculture, and are relieved that the stress of war will be necessary, they assert.

In many sections prices of seed grains have been found almost prohibitive. Market prices have reached such a point that the likelihood the government will in some cases provide seedling grains free of cost.

RETRENCHMENT.

This war has caught this nation in a state of pitiful unpreparedness. Partially due to the failure of some of the essential crops last year, second to unusual demand for materials high on the list of necessities, for the manufacture of war materials for foreign powers, and third the labor market, where the supply has fallen far short of the demand. There is no question there are millions, yes billions, of dollars in the hands of those who have been fortunate enough to garner in the war. The fact remains, this nation is unprepared.

Too much prosperity has turned the heads of the rich. They have become richer. The average middle class worker has become rich, the laboring man is accumulating a far larger weekly wage than hitherto, but his cost of living has gone up in proportion—just a few jumps ahead of his envelope. Now war confronts a shortage of wheat, a shortage of potatoes, a shortage of food products and in supplies in all lines generally.

It is useless to preach economy to the man whose father and mother coiled together, saved of the family. Whose little garden supplied the table needs, in days when duck steak was a luxury, wages small and cost of living at a minimum, when today the most expensive steak must grace their table, their garden plot must be a lawn or a tennis court and their children go to an expensive school and wear costly clothes. These will not be affected by the conditions that are bound to come, but the working man will be.

It is time for retrenchment. The man at the head of our nation, state and civic government urge it. They understand conditions. They know what is in store for us. The Gazette urged every farmer in Rock county to plant one or more acres of wheat for home consumption. They have responded nobly. Various local business enterprises have organized garden clubs for their employees. The mayor has issued a proclamation urging people to plant gardens and an association has been organized to carry this thought to completion and success.

As citizens we must abandon thoughts of civic improvement that will cost money for the present. The project of a park along the river bank between Milwaukee and Court streets was most beautiful in conception. It would have been a valuable adjunct to the city, but in the interest of retrenchment the cost is prohibitive. The commissioners are even considering cutting down on their street appropriations. That is, in doing less new work and saving expenses for the taxpayer. Cost of material is too high.

The university lobby at the state legislature, usually the most greedy of all the paid organizations seeking state funds, has cut down hundreds of thousands of dollars from their demands for appropriations for the coming two years. They realize it is a time for retrenchment and they wish to rid the great work as far as possible. This is true in every line of public activity. New structures contemplated at the expense of the taxpayers will be abandoned and economy ideas instilled.

Janesville needs a river park. It needs two. Some one has suggested that instead of diverting the seventy odd thousand dollars which the Milwaukee street bridge proposition generated for one park in that particular location why not expend an equal amount in the purchase of what is known as Goose Island creating a public park and playground there, with a swimming beach and recreation ground. Follow the idea along and travel down to the bend of the river near the old Burr Robbins place and build a second park there. However, with retrenchment needed, we must postpone such plans for the present at least.

STAND PAT!

President Wilson and his administration leaders are standing pat on the proposition of selective conscription. Thank the "Gods of War" for that if we must fight. Selective conscription is pure and simple draft when you come right down to it. It means that the slackers will be caught and forced to do their service. It means that the young men who are physically fit to enlist but are waiting—for the land knows what—will be forced to join the ranks whether they will or not. It will mean the raising of the army that could not be created under the volunteer service idea.

The trouble with the young men of today is that they do not wish to get down and work. To drill and carry the musket. They would prefer to be officers. They would like to command, but where are the men coming from they are to command unless they are forced to enlist? There are several hundred young men right here in Rock county who would like to be soldiers but they hesitate. They want to go with their own clique, their own fellows as officers.

This war is not a play time. It is not a vacation trip, where you choose your companions and map out the route to travel. It is not a gala event where you go to camp for a few days and if you want to shirk your turn washing dishes you can do it, someone will wash them or you can put them in the river and let them soak. It is a stern reality.

You can not call your superior officer "Cap" or "Lieut." or "Bill" or "Charley." You get up when the bugle blows and you go to your meals when mess call sounds and you drill when you are told to and you go on guard when ordered for duty. You stand at attention when on inspection and you go to bed when taps are sounded. You must keep your quarters clean, your kit in order and your clothes brushed, and above all you must obey orders.

This war is going to make a lot of men out of slackers and it is going to enable a lot of young fellows to find themselves who otherwise might have become drifters. There is something like military discipline to bring out the good or bad qualities of a young man. Too many sons, whose fathers toiled honestly and hard, lived by the sweat of their brow—do not know that the word obedience exists. They have never been taught it. The selective draft—if they do not enlist in some volunteer organization, will ferociously a national guard unit—will drill this thought into their brains as no other method ever would.

Thank fortune the president stands for the selective draft and will insist upon it. He has seen the fallacy, it is to be hoped, of watchful waiting, and now with this nation at war he will insist that it be prepared. It is the duty of every congressman to get behind the administration and uphold it. We are to hold the regard of the civilized world in this crisis.

In the resignation of Walter Alexander as member of the state railroad commission the state has lost the services of one of its most valuable members of this important organization. Mr. Alexander knew whereof he judged and the fact that he returns to the employ of a railway at an increased pay demonstrates the state does not pay salary enough to keep competent men in their employ. Alexander's work was constructive—never destructive—and he made a most admirable chairman. His resignation is to be regretted.

The middle west does not appreciate the enthusiasm and the patriotism that is being displayed in the east and as far west as the Pacific coast. Flags are flying, bands are playing, and people cheer the flag, with its white and red stripes and blue field of stars and stripes displayed in Janesville to show this city was actually in the union.

The Chicago Herald says that the Germans made a big mistake in starting their initial attack upon the torpedo boat Smith, because every person of that name in the United States would resent it. Perhaps that is true, but the same name there are a lot of Jones and Browns and Whites and lots of other names who resent the shot just as strongly and will demonstrate their resentment when the time comes.

It will not be long now before our soldier boys will be listening for the welcome of "Soup! Soup!" "Without a single bean." "Porky! Porky! Porky!" "Without a streak of lean." "Coffee! Coffee! Coffee!" The meanest ever seen.

If you have not planted that garden, why not? Do friends out in the country where they have land are using all the available space they can, so why not you? If you do not want to work the garden plot yourself, turn it over to some organization and let them.

Governor Phillips has made a wise selection in his members of the state retrenchment council for defense. He failed to play politics, but chose the very best persons fitted for the office. No one who knows the governor and his desires expected otherwise.

Well, Rock county is going to grow some wheat this year, and what the crop is harvested it will help swell the grand total and perhaps we may be able to have bread again that is within our purses.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

—ROY K. MOULTON—

"ONCE AGAIN, ONCE AGAIN. Life would seem indeed far brighter To the reader (or the writer), If a Genji came a-rapping at his door. And remarked, 'A lovely night, sir.' I had thought perhaps you might, sir. Like to spend 'as you did in days of yore!'"

"You would care to then, I guess, sir. And we'd gladly cry, 'Oh, yes, sir!' Are you sure that you can do it?"—when, forsooth! After one quick magic whisking Of his fingers we are frisking At the evening games we relished in our youth!"

With our chums and little brothers, "Run, sheep, run," and many others Of the games we used to favor we'd play. Oh, but once again to be a (True, it's not a new idea!) Happy, healthy, soiled and grimy little boy!

Once again to scramble fence! Oh, whatever the expenses, Any sum that we could gather we would pay. For an evening of the sallies Through old barns and down the allies In the after-supper games we used to play!

TODAY SNEER. One good way to Prepare for a Bright Future is to Spend your Snap Thinking about what a Soft Snap your boss has.

Unsung Heroes. Oh, where a more courageous man than that? Who asked by spinsters—just today he was—To really try his best to guess their age. He really does!

The "Gold Car" displayed by an auto company as the most expensive car in the world has moved many, as auto owner to write in and contradict them.

The Poor Old Man. A weary man, with doleful sigh, Upon the way I met. A look of fear was in his eye. He seemed to moan and fret.

He limped along with palsied gait As pale as a ghost. And as he went I saw he ate A piece of buttered toast.

"Old man," I said, "your ways are queer."

Pray tell me why you grieve?" Said he, "Though both my arms, I fear, Are covered o'er with sleeve,

"Though all my shoes are full of feet, I am full of cheese. I grieve, at times, I curse in heat, But not because of these.

"Nor yet because I spend the nights Upon the grassy knolls, In search of paper dolls and kites And pumps and jelly rolls;

"But oh, I rage that I am choked Each time I'm on a car, By one who holds a stale, half-smoked, And smoldering cigar!"

When dole and care And grim despair Assail a mortal creature, When woes implore, 'Twill show, it's sure, On each and every feature.

You've seen as how Upon the brow A cloud of gloom will gather, To the employ of a railway at an increased pay demonstrates the state does not pay salary enough to keep competent men in their employ. Alexander's work was constructive—never destructive—and he made a most admirable chairman. His resignation is to be regretted.

So you'd suppose Since griefs and woes Bring doleful looks, unsought too, It works—or may—The other way. At any rate it ought to!

In sorry case, If from our face All looks of woe we scatter, As like as not 'Twill help a lot To really mend the matter!

HAPPY THOUGHT The Man who Stands by his Mistakes seldom Learns by them.

No! He's still as poor as in his youth, Is Egbert Arthur Twostring, And yet it is the sober truth, He started on a shoestring!

A Man's Dresser Drawers. Every once in a while a man takes everything out of his dresser drawers and decides to have things in neat order thereafter. He plans to have one drawer for shirts and another one for ties and socks and smaller things and he considers that after one careful rearrangement things won't get so muddled up any more. He says, "Always have one small drawer for odds and ends." In this drawer goes everything that doesn't seem to belong anywhere else. He usually takes this drawer out every month or two and empties it on the bed. There are no rare

"Oof!" cried Cleopatra, and kicked ed out forcibly with one shapely limb (See Annette Chubb's "Dimensions of Famous Beauties.")

"My foot's asleep!" she cried, and leaned up and stamped about with lissome grace.

Anthony, always charmed with the poetry of even her slightest motion, were it only scratching her chin or wrinkling a frown over her perfect nose, was enraptured.

"Heavenly!" he ejaculated. And, inspired, he improvised an accompaniment on his ukelele, a haunting refrain that so fitted in with the spirit of Cleopatra's mood that she continued stamping to its rhythm long after her foot had awakened.

And thus was born to a waiting world the fox trot.

The success or failure of Joe Wood's attempted comeback will be one of the interesting side features of the coming campaign in the American league. Wood at his best was one of the greatest boxmen in the game, but the chances seem to be against a successful comeback. Though only twenty-eight years of age he is a veteran in point of service in baseball. He got his first tryout back in 1905 with Kansas City and returned to the same club in 1908 after two seasons with

ASK FOR MORE LAND FOR CITY GARDENS

ALL PROPERTY-OWNERS WITH AVAILABLE LAND ASKED TO NOTIFY CITY HALL AT ONCE.

MUST START AT ONCE

Schools and Organizations Make Much Progress—A. B. West to Lecture on Gardens Saturday Evening.

Since the organization early this week of a movement to encourage the planting of vacant lot gardens in this city, considerable progress has been made in bringing the land and the gardeners together. Following the proclamation by Mayor Fathens asking all citizens to plant a garden, they would be willing to rent or donate to amateur gardeners, to notify the city hall, that distributing agency has received many offers.

As this time there are a number of lots in various parts of the city, which may be obtained upon application at the mayor's office. In the first ward there are a number of lots in the Pleasant View and Lenox avenues. In the second ward, there has already been offered one lot in the Highland Park addition, and a plot of land in that section, and one on Prairie avenue. There are a number of large lots offered in the third ward on Garfield avenue, north and south of Milwaukee, and in the fourth ward, there are three and a half lots on Chestnut street. As yet no land has been offered in the fifth ward though some urgent requests are made of all people in the city who own land, which might be available in this case, to notify the city hall at once. In a few days it will be too late to get good results from gardens, and every foot of available land must be put under cultivation. With the organization of garden clubs in two of the larger manufacturing concerns and with similar movements on foot in many other shops and factories, there is a great demand for land, which should be filled at once.

Negotiations between Mayor Fathens and the local Boy Scouts are at this time in progress, concerning the taking over of two of the larger plots of ground for cultivation by troops. Arrangements are being made in this case for the planting and preparation of the land by the owner, the gardens to be cultivated on a share basis.

Some of the lots have been donated free of charge, though a nominal charge is made. Full details as to location, charge, and character of land can be obtained upon application at the city hall.

Professor Allen B. West this morning talked to the students of the high school, urging greater activity on their part in the matter of small gardens. Mr. West appealed to the pupils in a most forceful manner, declaring that the question was not only one of necessity, but evolved upon the fact that as patriotic duty before the realization of the gardens, with consequent help to parents, was another point raised by Mr. West.

A canvass of all the grade schools in the city has already been completed by Mr. West and a corps of assistants recruited from the advanced agricultural students at the high school, with a result that about two hundred and fifty children have enrolled themselves as gardeners. A second trip with a view to assisting the children in every way possible to plan and start their gardens.

On Saturday evening of this week at a lecture on city gardens in the assembly room of the high school, Mr. West explained ways and means, and gave a report on the advanced progress of the gardens, and answered all questions regarding individual cases which may be put to him, in addition to the public meeting, which is being held in the city hall, Mr. West is daily conducting an information bureau at the high school. He may be reached there either personally or by telephone between 5 and 8 p. m. and will arrange personal conferences at other hours where possible.

The great need at present is for more land. Inquiries come incessantly to the city hall for land in this or that locality. In each neighborhood in the city vacant lots are being sought for to grow their little gardens. It is the urgent desire of the mayor that all people with land will communicate with him at once.

PRACTICE GAME ON SUNDAY ARRANGED

Janesville Ballteam to Have First Workout Against Local Pick-up Team Next Sunday.

Local fans will be given an opportunity to see the Janesville ball team in action next Sunday, when they will play a practice game with a team composed of local players who have distinguished themselves in semi-pro circles in the past.

The game is scheduled for one o'clock Sunday afternoon at the fair grounds. There will be no admission charged. As yet the line-up for the Janesville team has not been announced. Manager Cole this afternoon is getting in touch with the players in an attempt to secure as many of the men who will be regulars on the team as is possible.

Butters and Carroll, two Janesville boys, are likely prospects for regular berths on the Janesville team. An attempt will be made to bring Joe Ryan here for the game. Other players in East Troy, Waukesha and other nearby cities will make up the line-up.

MILITIA COMPANY
OFF FOR EDGERTON
PATRIOTIC MEETING

Hope to Enlist Entire Platoon in Edgerton, to Be Branch Detachment of Local Company.

When the Second Separate company returns from Edgerton later this evening following their participation in the loyalty day celebration, there is every likelihood that its ranks will have been swelled by the addition of an entire platoon of men, to be organized as a branch detachment of the local company, and to be drilled by local officers at Edgerton. For some time a number of men in Edgerton have been contemplating enlisting, and it is the hope of Captain Caldwell that enough can be secured to form a separate platoon. Thirty-three men are needed for this organization, but it is believed that the full number can be secured.

The Edgerton men have already organized a local company, and have been drilled a little. The attempt will be made to enlist the organization bodily. Dr. Farnsworth, the examining physician with the local company, will make the trip to Edgerton for the purpose of giving the recruits a physical examination, and Captain Caldwell is making plans to follow him.

When the men are sworn in, should the plan materialize, the branch platoon would remain in Edgerton, an armory would be rented, and equipment ordered. About fifty men will make the trip by auto to the Tobacco City this evening, in addition to a large number of Janesville people who will follow the local militiamen will march in the parade and will put on a shooting exhibition drill before Captain Caldwell will make an appeal for recruits.

In the past two days there have been no new enlistments in Janesville, though there are more than ten applicants to be heard from. Should all these men complete their enlistment, the enrollment would be well above the one hundred mark, an increase of fifty since the inauguration of the present recruiting campaign upon the arrival of Captain Caldwell.

A number of promotions were made last night by Captain Caldwell, adding to the personnel of the non-commissioned staff. The new non-commissioned staff returned to the grade of private, and first class private John A. Hanson was promoted to the position of cook. Corporal Malcom M. Dermott was promoted to sergeant, and privates Edward E. Parker and F. R. Kurzman were appointed corporals. Privates I. E. Herman, Claude Hyde and Chester Smith were made first class privates.

Wisconsin has now completed the personnel of its Fourth infantry regiment as required under the new law, which declares that Wisconsin's peace strength must be 10,500 men, with the Janesville company included in the list. Holway today said that he has written the war department at Washington of the formation of the Fourth and he is now waiting for the Federal government to bring the word of enlistment into existence. General Holway expects to bring the Wisconsin guard under the full requirements of the new national guard law within the next two months.

The personnel of the new regiment, according to Holway, will be as follows: Kenosha, Janesville, Chippewa Falls, St. Francis, Antigo, Shawano, Waupaca, Menasha, Platteville, Sturgeon Bay, Tomahawk and Stoughton. Most of these companies are already in existence, and are expected to be recruited beyond peace strength. The company at Stanley, Holway said, has a membership of 135 men.

Whether the above will be the permanent personnel of the Fourth Gen. Holway has not determined. It is probable that with the completion of the formation of the first six infantry regiments, a total of six hundred men will be distributed among the districts as is now the case with Wisconsin's three regiments.

BULLETIN TO POSTAL SAVINGS DEPOSITORS

The severance of diplomatic relations with Germany on the 3rd instant caused some alarm among foreign-born depositors in a few cities lest their postal savings deposits might be seized by the government in the event of war. Withdrawals increased temporarily at a few postoffices, while in other places deposits ran unusually heavy. Apprehension as to the safety of postal savings deposits was effectively allayed by the following announcement of the state department on the 3rd instant:

"It having been reported to him that there is anxiety in some quarters on the part of persons residing in this country who are the subjects of foreign states lest their bank deposits or other property should be seized by the government in the event of war, the president authorizes the statement that all such fears are entirely unfounded."

The government of the United States will in no circumstances take advantage of a state of war to take possession of property to which international understandings and the recognized law of the land give it no just claim or title. It will scrupulously respect all private rights which belong to citizens and of the subjects of foreign states.

Postal savings depositors have the further express assurance of law, that in the event of war the faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of all deposits and that they may be withdrawn on demand. J. J. Cunningham, Postmaster.

MORRIS MILLER

With America at war with Germany, prominent universities and colleges of the country have signified their intention of suspending athletic relations until peace is declared. Not only have the universities issued such an edict, but many prominent athletic clubs have cancelled scheduled dates.

In the central west, more especially all the state universities where many athletes belong to the national guard or college battalions, coaches have found their teams riddled.

As chairman of the board on football officials, I will say that members from every squad in the conference colleges will enlist," Professor Pooley of Northwestern University said. "The war is more important to us than winning football games. If the players want to go to the front, I will use my influence to have all conference athletic dates canceled."

Instead of training for baseball or track and field games students at universities and colleges now are being put through military drills. There is a feeling of patriotism in every school, and it is a certainty the higher educational institutions of the United States will furnish their quota to the call for volunteers.

The athletes of this country are trained young men. They are in shape, physically, to go through a hard campaign and able to stand manual labor. They are ready and willing to go to the front and do whatever is required. Some already have seen military service on the border, while others have taken part in the drills at their respective colleges.

"Count on me," Jole Ray of the Illinois A. C., one of the greatest foot racers of the present day, said. "I can shoot, carry water, cook, and do most anything that officers request. Not only will I go myself, but I will get my friends in Kankakee to go with me. I will do what I can at my club to get the athletes to enlist."

Frank Cayou, former Carlisle Indian football player, asserted he will join any regiment organized at any of the Indian reservations for work on the border in case Mexico tries to take over Texas or New Mexico. Frank said there were several Indians in Chicago who would do the same thing.

The fans along the American league circuit miss the graceful and highly talented Lajoie, who has delighted them for years past with his batting and fielding. He begins his managerial career in the minors with the good wishes of countless fans.

Terry Turner again promises to be a regular at Cleveland. Turner is one of the marvels of this age of baseball. He made his major league debut in 1901 with Pittsburgh, was sent to Columbus and bobbed up in the spring of 1904 at Cleveland. He has been with the Cleveland club continuously for thirteen consecutive seasons and is now about to start his fourteenth.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF EDGERTON MILITIA PLATOON

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, April 19.—A number of young men of this city and vicinity having indicated their desire to enlist in the Wisconsin National Guard, it was suggested to Captain E. N. Caldwell of Janesville that a platoon be organized in this city. In accordance with this suggestion Captain Caldwell applied to the adjutant general for authority to recruit a platoon with the intention of merging it with the Janesville company and such authority was granted. Captain Caldwell advised that when a sufficient number of men have enlisted in this city to make a platoon of thirty-three men, he will detail an officer to visit this city one or more times each week for the purpose of instructing the rookies in military tactics. The men thus enlisted may continue their regular duties or vocations without removal from their homes until ordered by the war department to Camp Douglas. Captain Caldwell will be in attendance at the Loyalty meeting this evening to secure enlistments.

Mrs. D. J. Willson returned from the city last evening, where she has been visiting at the home of her daughter. She was called home by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Hall, who was taken to Waukesha yesterday for treatment at a sanitarium in that city.

The Progressive Study club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. W. Conn Monday instead of Tuesday as formerly announced.

Miss Kittie McDonough was a Bowler City caller Wednesday.

Mrs. C. H. Babcock went to Waukegan yesterday to call on Mr. Babcock, who is at a sanitarium in that city.

J. F. Hruska was a business caller at Madison Wednesday.

Mrs. Gerhardt Barnes and Miss Barnes of Black Earth, who is visiting in the city, were Janesville visitors yesterday.

Quite a number of Edgerton baseball fans are planning to attend the Chicago White Sox baseball game at Madison Monday.

A military company is being formed at Stoughton under the supervision of Captain Rollis, and recruiting was begun today. Stoughton expects to be able to turn out a company of national guard.

Mrs. W. E. Newman spent last evening with Janesville friends.

W. E. Doty is representative for the Gazette. Orders for display and classified advertising and subscriptions will receive careful attention. Phone

MILTON JUNCTION COUPLE CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

On April 18, 1892, Miss Nettie I. West and Willard D. Burdick were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. West, of Milton Junction. About fifty guests were present. Thirteen of this number with about twenty-five other near relatives celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of this occasion last Wednesday evening at the home of the Rev. W. D. Burdick and wife at Milton. The eldest son, now teaching in the Hartland high school, was at home for the occasion. The other two children, Miss Marjorie and Master Russell are still residing at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdick, who have lived since their marriage in four different states, where the past duties have called Mr. Burdick, were the recipients of many congratulatory messages and of gifts appropriate to the occasion. A two-course supper was

"If moving pictures were used in a sweeping campaign against the common enemy—High Cost of Living—many movie fans would learn how to buy more advantageously, keeping the thought of the proper number of food units ever in mind," says Eugene Sanger, the well known moving picture producer.

The question of food is a weighty one in each household—the interest is intense; so films showing the most scientific methods of marketing, illustrating the most nutritious food, the way of preparation, and the full utilization of every part of the foodstuff, would be studied by all. If film manufacturers would go further and show ideal plans of vegetable gardens, etc., a long step would have been taken toward routing the frightful monster—High Cost of Living.

DOUG TRAINS
"Bull" Montana has been hired as athletic trainer for Doug Fairbanks. Doug plans to spar a few rounds every morning to keep in condition. Bull wears an 1844 collar. He became acquainted with Fairbanks when he was engaged to impersonate a burglar in the Fairbanks play, "In Again—Out Again."

ANTI GOSSIPS
Photoplays depicting misfortunes that come to female gossips are popular in small towns, writes an exhibitor in Kansas. "Because such pictures are believed to exert a restraining influence."

"KIST"
One company announces that in all its subtitles hereafter "kissed" will be spelled "kist." They hasten to explain, though, that shortening the word won't shorten the kisses.

Keeler, Cal., one of the smallest towns in the United States, reports with pride it has completed arrangements to see a new photoplay every week. Keeler has a total population of eight-four, which includes two Indians.

Lou Tellegen's last picture, before he becomes a director will be "The Long Trail," a play of the Canadian northwest. It's scheduled for release April 23.

A revised version of Longfellow's "Hanging of the Crane," adapted to the occasion, was read by Mrs. Nettie West. There was an impromptu musical program, both instrumental and vocal. Mrs. Burdick playing the accompaniment. On request of those present Mr. and Mrs. Burdick sang a duet, and the program closed with singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," after which the company said good night.

MYERS THEATRE.
The outstanding attraction of this season or any other theatrical season never dreamed of by any dramatist in the world and it is carried through to the most logical conclusion along lines that are simply astounding. One hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars fill its stories with action, and 7,000 horses and 1,500 chariots, not to mention elephants and wild animals and hisds of the jungles and the fast, lend their enlivening influence in the outliving of the events which are crowded into nearly 5,000 scenes of splendor, drama, excitement, adventure, romance, love, then known scenes of palaces that were supposed to have been obliterated by the sands of time.

From out of the past and the present Griffith has evolved an epic which creates a new art form to arouse the interest of the world. He has crowded for stories of as many different periods in history into one great comprehensive study of the conditions which Love has struggled against since civilization was first devised. He shows the old world places where the same intolerant views held sway the day of kings and despots that now sway the people who would reform and regulate all the joy out of our present day life.

This ancient story is laid in Babylon at the time of Belshazzar and his antiquity loving father Nabonidus, and he has rebuilt the walls of that ancient citadel for his dramatic purpose. You see the great known world coming up to Babylon to pay homage and to enjoy the pleasures of metropolitan existence nearly 2,500 years ago. The luxury and the joy of it all go way to the great battles with Chaldeans and his horses that gather on the banks of the Euphrates, and base and dances and living give place to war and the downfall of Babylon in the most stupendous scenes that were ever dreamed of.

The next stage is the beauties of ancient Jerusalem at the dawn of the Christian era and the struggle of the new message of love which the Master made against the Pharisees and the heretics of that day which ended with the tragedy on Calvary.

Next is the love episode of the innocent Huguenots, the more impelling maelstrom of mediaeval cruelty brought down around them by the machinations of Catherine de Medici that they degenerate sons might retain their grip on the throne of France. These preludes verge into and become a part of a gripping drama of current life in America. In other guises you see the same forces which upset ancient civilizations cracking their tolerant whips over the people of today. This treatment brings the human note into a spectacle which is astonishing for its business and outline and pure pleasure there are strikes and hair breadth escapes from illy contrived persecutions. A marvelous scene showing a race for a life between an automobile and a fast flying express train brings this story to its climax. And then all merge into one great effort which shows that Love will conquer in the end and human heart will beat to more impelling emotions than those of narrow regulators of self-styled controllers of all that life should hold dear to the individual.

Mr. Griffith combines music with his stirring productions and a chorus and orchestra of thirty will interpret the emotions of his story while the eye is following his wonderful portrayal of what the people of the world have suffered and brought forth.

MYERS THEATRE.

A. S. Stern and Company announce the first presentation here of the international comedy success "Twin Beds" at Myers theatre, Sunday, April 22nd. This laugh festival distinguishes itself from the majority of comedies by the clean wholesomeness of its story, the rapidity of its action, the dramatic lift in its situations, the wit and breeziness of its lines and the definiteness of its characterization. It is an impossibility not to laugh at "Twin Beds," there is no getting away from it, people simply roar and shout. Description of the comedy conveys but a feeble idea of the complicated actions which are unfolded in the course of the three acts. Theatres ring with happy laughter and catch words from "Twin Beds" are heard in every quarter. Messrs. Stern & Company have provided a splendid and evenly balanced cast of well known players, among them such well known names as J. Morrill Morrison, William Weston, Luis Alberni, Warren Hastings, Marguerite Rissler, Antoinette Roehle, Elizabeth Stafford, Martha McGraw and others.

MYERS THEATRE.
Coming direct from a fresh triumph in Chicago, after the division of two seasons between New York and Boston, William Hodge will be seen here at Myers theatre for one night, April 24th, in Lawrence Whitman's comedy and farce entitled "Fixing Sister."

While offering a fresh characterization of the American business man, every school boy tells a widely known story, the scene being the drawing room of Marion Ellsworth in New York City in which her Kansas City brother develops his clever strategy of revealing the socially machine-guns of an English crook who is relieving sister Marion of her cash through an appeal to her heart, incidentally assuring his own happiness in opening the eyes of Marion's young ward to the schemes of the pseudo nobleman.

"Fixing Sister" has been received with great acclaim, the New York Globe declaring: "It is every bit as good as 'The Man From Home'"; the Chicago Daily News adding: "A charming play, beautifully staged," and which the Rev. J. P. Rushingham, noted pastor of Chicago's South Park Ave. M. E. church, proclaimed in voluntary praise: "It is a play every man, woman and child could and should see. It is a credit to the American stage."

Supporting Mr. Hodge is the same excellent company seen in Boston, New York and Chicago, the cast including Miriam Collins, Jane Wheat, Ed. Vernon, Hamilton Deane, Charles Canfield, George Lund and thirty other players.

THE SOY BEAN

If the soy bean is an example of the yellow peril, then Wisconsin farmers want more of it.

The soy bean is one of the best economic results of the agricultural "open door" policy with the Orient.

This oriental member of the world-wide clan of nitrogen gatherers has come to Wisconsin, sweet abundance, thrown aside the hyphen, and is proving its worth to farmers on the light, sandy, jackpine and scrub oak plains, as well as in the fertile soils.

The soy bean, or soy bean, as it is commonly termed, is grown for five purposes in Wisconsin—for seed production, for hay, for silage when mixed with corn, as green manure, and as pasture for hogs.

The plant is a leafy, upright annual, growing three to four feet in height. A covering of fine hairs over the leaves and stems distinguishes it from cowpeas, a legume not as well adapted to the extremes of Wisconsin's climate. Its growing season varies with different varieties from 90 to 120 days or more. In planting it, care must be taken to get pure, high germinating, northern-grown seed.

Soy beans use lime as a tonic, especially on sour, sandy land. Lime seems to add great vigor to their bodies and promotes rapid growth. Increased yields of from 66 to 77 per cent were noted on test plots where lime had been used at the state experiment station farm at Ellis Junction, Marinette county, on light, sandy soil. In 1911, at this place soy beans on unfertilized soil amounted to 2.27 tons an acre. The limed plots yielded at the rate of 6.66 tons.

Inoculation before planting soy beans makes little or no difference in the gross weight of the crop harvested on rich soils, according to observations in this state. It does, however, make a big difference in the feeding value of the crop. There is usually much more protein in soy beans grown in inoculated soil than on land not so treated.

In any event, soy beans grown on poor, sandy soil require inoculation in order to get a thrifty stand. Soil laden with soy bean nitrogen fixing bacteria may be obtained at cost of delivery by application to the state experiment station, Madison, or any of the branch station farms.

As a rule soy beans are planted at the usual time for corn, but when intended for hay, they may be planted later. Good crops of hay have been obtained from beans planted after June 15, and even as late as July 1. Planting in drills to allow intertillage is considered the best practice. The seedling is prepared in much the same manner as for corn or other cultivated crops.

The soy bean is the friend of poor soils and the Good Samaritan to lands that have been winnowed or robbed of previous crops by drought or disaster of any kind. It is the "catch crop" par excellence—a point that must never be overlooked, for no man knows when trouble comes to smite his first plantings.

In the northern clearings the anxious settler will find soy beans a trusty crop, especially on sandy soils. Soy beans planted in 1910 at Spooner, Washburn county, on freshly broken land, gave a yield of 2,500 pounds of hay for the Ito San variety. Near Crivitz, Marinette county, the following season Early Black soy beans made nearly two tons of hay and 16 bushels of seed from one acre.

From 12 to 40 bushels of seed an acre was the range of production. Besides being rich in fats and oils the seeds are richest in protein of all the various seeds used to feed live stock. They contain about as much digestible protein and much more digestible fat than linseed meal. They are better than cottonseed meal for dairy cows, but must be fed sparingly in this case owing to their tendency to cause soft butter.

The hay crop is cut when the pods are well formed, but before the leaves turn yellow and the stems become woody. Yields vary from one to three tons an acre. Soy bean hay has fully as much crude protein as alfalfa hay, one and a half times as much as red clover hay, and more than four times as much as corn fodder with ears.

One-third beans and two-thirds corn, planted with a corn planter, harvested with corn binder, cut thoroughly and packed well in the silo makes decidedly good silage for dairy cows.

If intended for seed, the Wisconsin Early Black is best under a wide range of conditions. The Ito San or Medium Early Green varieties are adapted for forage rather than seed. On clay soils soy beans require from a week to 20 days longer in which to reach full maturity.

best pickles, and toothpicks. No other animal works for man both day and night; by day she gathers food and when we are asleep at night she brings it back to re-chew and manufacture into all the things of which I speak. She has gone with man from Plymouth Rock to the setting sun. It was her sons that drew the prairie schooner for the sturdy pioneer, as much by luck they fought to prove that "Westward the Star of Empire takes its way." And the old cow grazed along behind and when the day's march was done she came and gave the milk to fill the mother's breast to feed the suckling babe that was perchance to become the future ruler of his country.

Who says that what we are to a great extent we do not owe to man's best friend, the cow? Treat her kindly, gently, for without her, words fail me to describe.

It was the cow that made it possible for man to change the great American desert into a land of happy and prosperous homes. When she came, the buffalo disappeared, the Indian tepee gave way to the church, schoolhouse, and home, and where once the wild wolves howled today children prattle, grass grows, flowers bloom, and birds sing.

Grand and noble brute, of all man's animal friends she is the greatest! To her we owe the most. Examine into all the channels of trade into which she enters and note the result should she be blotted out. A Sunday stillness would pervade the great stockyards of our large cities and grass would grow in the streets. One-half the freight trains that plow the continent from ocean to ocean would sidetrack, for there would be nothing for them to do. Fifty per cent of the employees would draw no pay on Saturday night and our tables would be bare of the greatest luxuries with which they are now loaded. The great plains of the West that the cow has made to blossom like the rose would revert to the Indians from whence they came and millions of prosperous homes would be destroyed.

None other like the cow. There is not a thing from nose to tail but what is utilized for the use of man. We use her horns to comb our hair, her skin is on our feet and horses' backs. Her hair keeps the plaster on our walls, her hoof makes glue and her tail makes soap. She gives us our cream, our milk, our butter and cheese, and her flesh is the meat of all nations. Her blood is used to make our sugar white, her bones when ground make valuable fertilizer, and even the contents of her paunch she has herself put through the first chemical process for the manufacture of the best quality of white board paper and now it has been discovered that this paper can be made into the best false teeth. Oh, you who would abuse the cow, I wish that I could for once take from your table as you are about to sit down to the evening meal all that the cow has placed thereon. I'd take up the cupful of milk sitting by the baby's chair, I'd take the cream biscuit, the butter, the cheese, the smoking roast of beef or steak or the sweet corned plate of juicy meat. In fact, I'd leave you to make your meal upon Irish potatoes,

PLANT WHEAT, BEANS
CORN AND POTATOES
NORGORD'S ADVICE

(By C. P. Norgord, Commissioner of Agriculture.)

Madison, Wis., April 19.—We are engaged in a world war with nations whose producing power has been greatly depleted. France last fall planted only 85 per cent of the normal acre of wheat and 89 per cent of the normal acreage of rye. The total world production of wheat in 1916 was only 74 per cent of the 1915 crop. In the United States for the sum of the years 1915 and 1916, the total production was sixteen bushels per capita; the total consumption, 12.2 bushels per capita; the exports, 5.5 bushels per capita, a total consumption and exports of 18.2 bushels per capita, or 8% bushels more than the supply on hand. As a consequence, we have for some time been drawing upon the reserve surplus of previous years. On March 1, plus of this reserve was only 55 per cent of the same for March 1, 1916, or 89,000,000 compared with 155,000,000 a year ago.

Shortage of Winter Wheat.

The condition of winter wheat on April 1 for the United States was 63.4 per cent of normal against 75.3 a year ago. There has been a decrease in condition since December 1, 1916, of 2.3. The present forecast indicates a probable shortage in the coming crop of winter wheat of fifty million bushels. This is mainly in consequence of a drought in Kansas and Nebraska which has reduced the acreage in those states within the last few weeks by over fifty per cent. The Argentine wheat crop just harvested, is short and has been placed under embargo. This condition of wheat is mentioned because more than any other crop, it indicates the state food supply for the world. The shortage in winter wheat must be made up by other crops.

What Wisconsin Must Do.

In a recent letter to our government at Washington, David Lloyd George, prime minister of England, states:

"We have reached a crisis in the war when to insure victory, the production of every quarter of wheat and oats and every bushel of potatoes is of vital importance, and the farmers of this country can defeat the German submarine."

Truly our governor, states in his proclamation that the man who grows the hoe is a patriot in the service of his country. Upon the farmers of our state and country rests a great responsibility, but we shall discharge it victoriously, if we make our plans with speed and perfection and carry them out in detail.

In Wisconsin, with our dairies and rotated farms, the greatest necessities in speeding up the whole farm program for a larger production of meat, dairy products and staple feed and food crops.

Beans to the Rescue.

Certain special food crops should be increased in acreage. Among these are the following:

Spring wheat.—Particularly in the northern end of the state where this crop grows better than farther south, the acreage can be increased, but the crop should be sown at the earliest possible date.

Beans for our lighter soils.—One of our nutritious and best keeping crops particularly adapted to shipment and for use by the army and navy. Our neighbor, Michigan, last year raised 500,000 acres of this crop, while we produced only 18,000 acres. There is seed enough available in the state to increase this crop by at least five thousand acres. The greatest emphasis should be placed upon this crop.

Buckwheat likewise is a staple human food crop which there is ample time to increase even upon new breakings.

Potatoes.—A crop which lends itself to increased production at this time. Corn.—More must be used for human food and the greatest possible acreage should be put in.

Garden for Every Family.

Better culture and care of a farm crops and animals is a patriotic duty which should keep us in the fields from early to late.

Know that your seeds will germinate; that grains and potatoes should be treated with formaldehyde to destroy disease; that fruits of all kinds should be sprayed to prevent the tremendous losses from diseases. Dry your produce in your own garden crops so far as possible and become self-supporting. Hence, every member of every family must become a producer.

The labor situation more than anything else will limit production. The young people from our homes and schools must be organized for effective labor by parents and teachers. Such labor is proper amount and supervision is one of the most healthful practices in which our young people can engage. All the labor of every country town should be released as far as possible for the farm. Use labor-saving machinery and methods.

The present and prospective supply of the cost of labor and machinery, all indicate profitable prices for the farmer's crop. The government also is looking into this question.

Conserve Supply of Seed.

With increased production must also come increased home economy in consumption. As stated at the national conference, we are the most wasteful people in the world in our ways of living. Our tastes and desires have been educated beyond our income. We must face about immediately in more economy on our tables and less Parisian military and dress.

The governor will soon have the state council for defense in full operation for the state and perhaps in the various counties. In the meantime every farmer and gardener must sow good seed. The governor has designated the state department of agriculture and distributing center for information on seeds. Possibly this work may be organized by counties, but in the meantime we invite all who have seeds for sale and all who wish to purchase to apply to this department for aid.

Within the past forty-eight hours this department has located practically all the supplies of seed throughout the state. The amount is barely adequate for planting the usual acreage if the present supplies remain within the state. Immediate steps must be taken by the state to retain these supplies and by every farmer to secure his needed seeds.

Quaker Nest of the Tontobane.

The oddest of all birds' nests is the one built by the tontobane, a South African songster. It is built of cotton and always upon the tree producing the material. In constructing the domicile the female works inside and the male outside, where he builds a sentinel box for his own special use. He sits in the box and keeps watch or sings nearly all the time, and when danger comes in the form of a hawk or a snake he warns the family, but never enters the main nest.

Does it Pay to Tell the Truth?

Two years ago a young American made a daring journey with a motion picture camera into the musty archives of this nation and unearthed dramatic material that netted him a fortune. Not content to rest on his laurels, he took this well earned sum and put it back into a work that rips through world-old fallacies with the power of a human torpedo loaded with indisputable facts. The towering result of this combination of exhaustive research and enormous resources is

GERMAN NAVAL BASE SOUGHT IN BRAZIL; RAIDERS ARE ACTIVE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Rio de Janeiro, April 19.—After rumors regarding naval bases said to have been established by German submarines on the coast of Brazil, what appears to be a reliable story of such a base reached this city. The story is vouched for by Colonel Maria da Silva, proprietor of a plantation on the Ilha de Macara, a few miles from the coast. The base is said to have been the scene of several German ships at various times since the beginning of the war.
The Ilha de Macara is separated from the northern coast of Brazil by the Carrapapari Channel. Three German warships anchored in this channel for several days during the war of the war, and have used the place several times since. The last time being February this year.
It is declared that fresh meat was carried to the ships by several cattle raisers, that the ships took water and made repairs. Tropical jungle climbs the steep slopes of land so that ships' masts or funnels are completely obscured when the ship lies close in to shore.
Colonel Silva reported that officers from the first German ships to use the hiding place landed in the morning, landed and made careful soundings of the channel and the entire neighborhood of the island, and that they made detailed maps from their observations.
With the publishing of Colonel Silva's statement the Brazilian cruiser "Tymbra" was despatched to the scene to verify the story and protect Brazilian neutrality.
Reports indicating that the raiders are still active in the South Atlantic continue to arrive, the latest being a telegram from a city near the mouth of the Amazon, saying that a naval battle had been fought within sight of that city. The report stated that was believed that the engagement was fought between the French cruiser "Geydon" and the German raider.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE READY FOR BUSINESS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., April 19.—Following the organization of the state council for defense, yesterday afternoon, it was decided to notify the national organization that the state council was now ready to co-operate.
The council, organized by electing the following officers: President, Magnus Swenson, Madison; secretary, Prof. A. P. Dennis of the University of Wisconsin.
Magnus Swenson, who was elected president of the state council, was a former regent of the University of Wisconsin, and is well known in Wisconsin public life. Prof. A. P. Dennis is connected with the department of history of the university and was recently appointed by Governor Philipp to submit the Wisconsin state council plan to Secretary Newton Baker at Washington for his approval.
Governor Philipp said that the first duty of the council would be to co-operate with the farmers of the state in seeing that every available piece of ground is planted so that a large crop will be raised this year. As the labor member of the committee, Governor Philipp announced the appointment of Fred Brockhausen of Milwaukee, a member of the legislature in 1905, 1907 and 1911. Brockhausen is associated with the Wisconsin Federation of Labor and was a representative of the socialist party in the assembly.

PLOW MONROE PARK FOR A CITY GARDEN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., April 19.—The city of Monroe will obey the injunction of Governor Wilson and the appeal of Governor Philipp to conserve the food supply and increase production during the coming year, by establishing a municipal garden. Unanimous decision of the city council in favor of this move.
The establishment of the municipal garden will mean that the virgin soil of the Bingham Park, a twenty-two acre tract, will be turned for the first time. The park was given to the city a number of years ago by the Bingham family, but up to the present no one has ever been allowed to use it.
The municipal garden will be operated by the street department of the city and under the resolution which has been adopted by the city council, all land acquired will be sold at low prices. It is expected the garden will be planted in the early part of the summer.
The city is also planning to increase the production of food crops in this section, but also secure steady employment of the unemployed during the summer months, although it has been stated that if such work as is necessary will be given at least until the present war crisis is passed.
Recently all of the vacant lots in the city have this year been rented and are being planted to gardens, in keeping with the appeal of President Wilson, rich and poor alike giving attention to at least raising supplies for their own tables.

REPORTERS PRAISE CENSOR'S COUNSEL

Washington, April 19.—From time immemorial the news censor has been "cussed" by the newspaper men, even when his work has been appreciated as so rare as to be well worth praising.
Twenty-nine Washington newspaper men on the state, war and navy "run" recently wrote a letter of appreciation of the services of Major Douglas MacArthur, the official war department censor. The letter, praising the censor's kindness, patience and wisdom, said that the censor's work was "a service which is appreciated even when it may come from a news person."

GERMAN ARMY WILL CLOSE ALL BUT 300 SHOE SHOPS

St. Paul, April 19.—Of 1400 shoe factories in Germany, 1100 will be closed this month and the remainder placed under government control. Of the latter, one hundred will be operated to meet the requirements of the army, and the other 200 to satisfy the needs of the civilian population.

SUFFRAGE QUESTION ARGUED AT HEARING

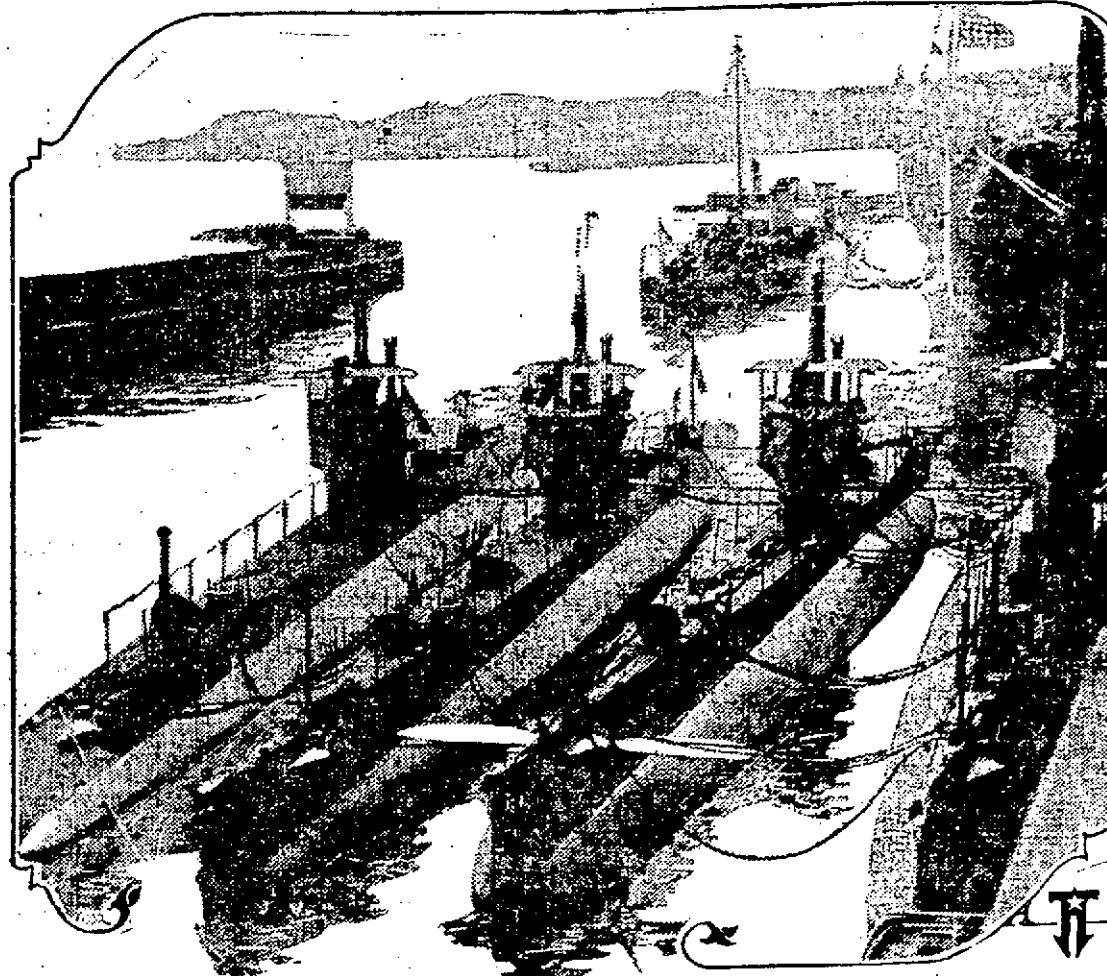

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., April 19.—The woman's suffrage question was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before the assembly committee on elections. The bill was recommended for passage with but two dissenting votes. Arguments in favor of suffrage were presented by Senator George E. Skogmo, River Falls, Mr. Nichols, representing the Madison Federation of Labor; Mrs. W. C. Bleyer, Madison; Helen J. Zillmer, Milwaukee; Mrs. Burr of Milwaukee; Harold Wengler, Madison; Mrs. Van Deusen, president of the Madison Business Women's Suffrage league; Mrs. Joseph W. Jastrow, state chairman of the state legislative committee of the Wisconsin Suffrage league, and Mrs. M. A. H. Smith of Madison.
The opponents of the bill were Mrs. C. E. Esterbrook, Mrs. Kroening, and former Attorney General J. L. O'Connor, all of Milwaukee.
The anti-suffragists urged the assembly committee to reject the Skogmo bill and Attorney O'Connor specifically urged the adoption of the Reinhold bill from the senate as a substitute. This bill would submit the question of whether the women desire the ballot or not to a vote of the people at the November election in 1918. If the vote is favorable, the matter would be reported to the 1919 legislature for legislative consideration.

ESCAPES TAXI FARE AFTER A LONG TRIP

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Evansville, April 18.—He is one of the latest up-to-date ways of securing first class transportation from Janesville to Evansville at the lowest possible financial cost. The idea was simple and yet worked so well that it was immediately brought to the attention of the police of this city and all evidence at the present time points to the plan. Bidwell's auto livery of Janesville, can best give the details of the scheme, for they were the ones victimized. Last Monday evening a gentleman with a suitcase hurried to the Northwestern depot in Janesville, only to find his train (the eleven-forty) gone. Feeling that he must return to Evansville that evening, he arranged with the Bidwell taxi driver to drive him to Evansville. Arriving here, the gentleman directed the taxi to one of the darkest corners of the city and there left the machine. On leaving, he told the driver that he did not have enough money with him to pay the charge, but that he would return to the house before he left before which they stood. Leaving the driver, he walked around to the back door of the house and has not been seen since. The police were notified, but it has been impossible to date to locate the party.
Mrs. Woodard Dies.

The daughters are: Mrs. Hans Nelson of this city; Mrs. Herbert Conant of Tomahawk; Mrs. John Felton of Warrens; Mrs. Henry Wilson of De Pere; and Mrs. Will Wilson of Galena, Ill. The sons are Peter Woodard of this city and Roscoe Woodard of Warrens. The funeral will be held Saturday at Tunnel City, Wisconsin.
Brought to Court.
Ole Olson, a middle-aged man, who claimed to be making his home with the family of Ole Amund, five or six miles east of this city, was arraigned in the local justice court last evening.

Olson was charged with drunkenness in a public place and inability to care for the safety of himself or that of others. Olson was taken into custody Tuesday evening by Night Officer Blunt, who found Olson in front of the Courtier Confectionery, in front of Peace Slawson. Olson refused to plead guilty and asked that his trial be set for the first of next week. His trial was set for Tuesday, April 24th, at ten o'clock in the morning.
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Horn of this city were held today and interment made at Bokoshe. Mrs. Horn had made her home in Evansville for the past six or seven years and was well known and enjoyed by many friends in this city. For the past three months she had been confined to her bed. Death came to end her sufferings at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Horn was seventy-two years of age and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Tom Johnson of this city.
Mrs. George Spencer entertained at a dinner party last Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter and daughter, Maude, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson and daughter, Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Richardson will attend the Saturday wedding held in Janesville this evening.
Miss Jessie Kelly was tendered a shower last evening by the members of the seventh and eighth grades of the public school. The party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Patterson. The affair proved to be a considerable of a shower—au laud shower.

MANNS AGAIN WINNER OVER HARRY SCHUSTER

CLEVELAND BOXER HAS DECIDED ADVANTAGE IN BOUT WITH WESTERNER THROUGH-OUT TEN ROUNDS.

SWANN BREAKS JAW

Local Boy Disabled in First Round.—Meyers and Frankie Rumor of Rockford Close With Draw.

GAZETTE'S DECISIONS.

Billy Manns, Cleveland, won from Harry Schuster, Oakland, Cal., 10.
Battling Bragg, Milwaukee, shaded Young Kiek, Rockford, 8.
Kid Meyers, Janesville, Frankie Rumor, Rockford, draw, 6.
Young Bonas, Milwaukee, beat Battling Swann, city, 1.

For the second time in a Janesville ring Billy Manns of Cleveland has defeated Harry Schuster of Oakland, Cal. Manns fought ten rounds but the night had the decided shade, was the fight a draw. Manns took a draw in the fifth and had matters slightly to his credit in the fourth. The opening three were feature for either and were draws.
Battling Bragg of Milwaukee, winning the sixth and seventh rounds of his battle with Young Kiek of Rockford, had a slight lead in the fourth and fifth, and with the second and fourth even, but with the second a good shade to Kiek, is declared the winner, but only by a narrow margin. A number would declare the fight a draw, but considering it on points in every round Bragg must be given the favor of any doubt.
Kid Meyers of this city and Frankie Rumor of Rockford battled wickedly and elastically to a draw over a six round bout. Neither had much the better of the other. Against Rumor's low punch the rangy Meyers could do little, and he seemed utterly unable to adapt his attack to advantage with Rumor playing so low throughout. The crowd continually urged the Rockford lad to "stand up and fight."

It seems that Battling Swann's ring days are over. The kid received a fractured jaw in the first round of his boxing with Young Bonas of Milwaukee. Swann's jaw was dislocated a few seconds after the fighters broke from the shake, and a moment later Bonas sent one through the local boy's defense. Swann stayed through the round. After the gong sounded his injury was discovered.

Against the expectations and predictions of the promoters, the great attraction of the evening, the battle between Billy Manns and Harry Schuster was really the better, although the semi-windup would have terminated successfully any boxing exhibition.

Manns and Schuster displayed a whole lot of cleverness and a great deal of more of hard fighting. Too to see they stood and it was given and taken after the first caution in the opening round. The second saw the pair beginning to mix matters and in the third the heavy banging commenced.

Manns' straight left was continually stopping the rushes of Schuster, while his right was forcing vulnerable spots in the fourth with a straight jab to the mouth. In the fifth Manns sprang from his corner and met his opponent three-quarters way. Schuster was back in his corner a moment later vainly attempting to guard himself against the raining blows.

Manns continually beat down Schuster's defense and jammed blow after blow to the head and body as Schuster bent over, arms and gloves guarding his upper works.
Schuster attempted to pull a trick in the seventh and catch the Cleveland lad off guard, but Billy fooled him more and Schuster suffered badly as the result. As he stepped at the failure of his coup, Schuster jumped into action and some real fighting was had. Manns, however, had the better of the period and won the round.

In the eighth Manns was the strongest by far. He was best in the clinch, struck more blows and also the hardest. Schuster was tired it was plainly seen.
Richie Mitchell's boxing partner gave the fans the idea it was only a low punch the rangy Meyers could do hands afterwards. Get busy" was about the lightest happening in the ring for the eight rounds.

Kick got a good shade in the second. The first, second and third were even. Bragg had a little to the good in the fifth and won the sixth by a similar margin. He was a slight bit bad just enough of a shade to be declared a winner.

Announcement was made that the next exhibition of the association would be in three weeks, weather permitting.

ZIGGY ZIMMERMANN'S ZIGGY DEFEATING PAIR OF TEAMS

Miss Freida Zimmerman's Ziggy Zimmms triumphed a field of two bowlers last night and today members of the Zimm family are talking about challenging "Doc" Richards' Gold Fish for a game. The victims in the female triangle last night were Miss Isabelle Nolan, Noes and Miss Margaret Dillon's Does. The affair took place at the west side alleys. Miss Driscoll of the Does was away of form. She has promised some secret practices before the next game.

"Talking about Non-Skid Tires"

It seems to me, that some tire manufacturers just cut out the raised tread pattern on their tires with a jig-saw at random; while others figure out the tread formation as common sense directs.

The Diamond "Squeezee Tread" is surely a "reason why" tread. Look at the cross bars. When the weight of the car rests on them, they just naturally get a TOE HOLD on the pavement and stop forward slide.

Then look at the longitudinal bars. They are continually in contact with the pavement and not only stop side skid ALL THE TIME but roll along as smoothly as a plain tread tire.

So if you want a real non-skid tire, we'll sell you a Diamond at its "Fair-List" Price.

Diamond TIRES

JENNINGS KNOWS HOW TO SELECT RECRUITS

If Hughie Jennings' ability to size up a pitcher was just as good as his ability to pick men for other positions he probably would establish a Tiger monopoly on American League pennants. There are fewer ex-Tigers trading big league parks than from any other club.

New York has three former Tigers doing duty for its American League club. Hugh High, Pipp and Baumann are former members of the Detroit club, but High and Baumann never had a real chance to perform for Jennings, due to the presence of Ty Cobb and a few others like him. Baumann hasn't yet been able to tie down a regular job in New York.

Deal and Archer of the Cubs are former Tigers, but no one has yet been able to figure Deal a real star. Bill Louden and Clarence Mitchell of the Reds once drew Detroit paychecks. And, if Jennings' had been able to see Mitchell's possibility as a pitcher he undoubtedly still would be doing duty in the Michigan city.

Claude Williams is another example of Jennings' futile efforts to find pitchers. Williams would look mighty well in a Detroit uniform this year, following his excellent mound work last summer for the White Sox.

Bradley Koehler of the Grizzlies and Del Gainer of the Red Sox make up the balance of Jennings' castoffs who still are kicking big league dust, and neither of these gents is a regular.

Jennings has been trying and trying to decide who can pitch and who can't, but he hasn't so far been able to pin his decision down to a cinch. Pitchers are pitchers to him, apparently. Stars in the minors quickly lose their brilliance when they tie up with what is otherwise one of the greatest baseball machines ever flung together.

It isn't hard for a fan to imagine what would happen if Jennings were able to trot out a pitching staff like that which graces the Red Sox or Yankee pay-roll. The pennant probably would have to be divided into two sections to satisfy the rest of the league.

Jennings has promised a reverse English twist to his usual order of things this year. His young pitchers, he boasts, will be there or thereabouts most of the time.

WHEN on such teams two outs near, Nick Atrock is breaking in another partner for his comedy coaching stunts with Washington. He has selected George Jamieson for the job and Jamie, being a left-hander, is said to take to it like a duck to water.

When the Chicago Cubs asked waivers on Outfielder Emil Meusel the Cincinnati Reds put in a claim. Meusel is said to be a failure, since he does not cover enough ground
